Golf Tourney To Benefit Lions Sight/Hearing Fund

The Professional-Celebrity-Amateur round of the Middle-Atlantic Section PGA Campionship will be played on Sunday, August 27, at Ivy Hill Golf Club. Participating in the event will be top golf professionals form Maryland, Washington, D.C. and Virginia, along with celebrities form daytime television shows and local amateurs.

Each professional will be paired with three amateur golfers and will compete on a best ball of foursome basis. Over $3,000 in prizes will be awarded to winning teams based on gross and net scores.

The entry fee for this round is $50 and includes daily passes for two to the pro-am, the Championship Tournament August 28-30, a cocktail party following Sunday's round and pairings and tee assignments for Saturday and this information will be posted at the club Friday.

There are some entries on the register that are incomplete (no partner listed, no indication as to cart preference, etc.) and the committee needs this information before Thursday night. If you are guilty, call the club immediately and give them the necessary information to complete your registration.

10-Year Safety Record Set By Southside Electric Cooperative

"Mr. Safety," Ikie Pridgen, Safety Director, S.E.C., announced Friday, July 7th that S.E.C. employee's have set a new safety record.

Over 2-million man-hours, 2,065,730 to be exact, have been worked by employees at Southside Electric Cooperative without a lost-time accident.

Cooperative equipment, trucks and cars have been driven 6,345,396 miles during this ten year period. Mr. Pridgen says, "This is one of the best records of any Cooperative in the United States." He said, "The employees have made this record because all employees are interested in an effort to work safely and because they have safe and healthful working conditions that protect those that might come in contact with the electric system or automotive equipment."

Southside Electric Cooperative's safety program is accredited by the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association.

Mr. Pridgen is responsible as Safety Director to keep all employees informed about safety and to see that all safety rules and regulations are followed on the job. Mr. Pridgen says, "This is a record all employees at Southside Electric Cooperative can be proud of because all employees have participated. Ten years without a lost-time accident is truly a great record.

LAKE JUNALUSKA YOUTH WEEK was the destination of these twenty-one youth and six counselors. They are members of the Memorial United Methodist Youth Fellowship of Appomattox, shown here sitting in front of the World Methodist Building. The Youth participated in study, discussion and activities centered around the theme "Covenant Living." The youth stayed six days, using the last day to visit the Cherokee United Methodist Mission, the Cherokee Indian Village, Botanical Gardens, a working mill, traveling to the highest peak in the Smokey Mountains and attending the play "Unto These Hills."

VA Questions And Answers

Editors Note: Following are representative questions answered daily by VA counselors. Full information is available at any VA office.

Q – I am a Civil Service and military retiree receiving VA compensation. What happens to my VA compensation if I combine my military and Civil Service for retirement benefits?

A – The VA compensation won't change. Moreover, the veteran will not have to waive all or part of the Civil Service retired pay to receive compensation as he did with military retired pay.

Q – When an autombile with special equipment provided a veteran by the VA needs to be replaced, will the VA pay for installation of the special equipment in a new car?

A – Yes.

Q – If I convert my $10,000 National Service Life Insurance term policy to a permanent plan of insurance, will I lose my dividends?

A – No. You will continue to receive dividends.

Q – What is the current rate of interest on a GI home loan?

A – The interest rate is presently nine per cent.

Making A Go In A Small Business Discussed In Free, New Booklet

For some 400,000 Americans this year -- 160,000 of them women -- "doing it my way" will mean going into business for themselves as proprietors of gift shops, candy stores, cosmetic studios, card shops, fashion boutiques, service stations or any of a variety of other small business enterprises.

According to the Small Business Administration nearly half will fail within two years, due primarily to inadequate record keeping, poor planning and lack of experience. However, the existence of more than six million thriving small businesses in the U. S. -- representing roughly half the nation's economy -- means that most are doing something right.

What it takes to make a go in a small business enterprise -- motivation, organization, financing, selecting a location, insurance, and so on -- is discussed in a new booklet, "Your Own Business: What's In It for you," available free of charge by writing to Women in Business, 9130 Bellanca Ave., Los Angeles, California 90045.

Now is the time to begin planning for the 1979 Tobacco plant beds. Begin by destroying old plant beds. Use a disc and overseed with soybeans and peas. No fertilizer is needed.

According to projections recently made by the Taylor Murphy Institute at the University of Virginia the median family income in Virginia is approaching the National level.

The highest median family income in Virginia (1975) is Fairfax County with $25,601 and the lowest is $6,909 in Northampton County.

Now for Appomattox County, in 1969 the figure was $7,724, 1975 it was $10,735 and for 1980 it's projected to be $14,859. Although the dollars are up, it's important to consider what is happening in relationship to the state. In 1969 Appomattox income was 36 percent of the state average, in 1975 it dropped to 80percent and projected at 77 percent in 1980. In other words, median family income in Appomattox County is not keeping pace with the state.

The June 1 report on grain stocks, nationally, shows most inventories up. From a year earlier -- corn up 18%, sorghum up 62%, oats up 88%, barley up 97%, wheat up 6%, and soybeans up 49%. Only rye stocks were down -- this by 49%.

• • •

Planted crops are generally down in Virginia. Following are key crops: corn down 9%, flue cured tobacco down 8%, fire cured tobacco down 7%. Crops up are soybeans, up 2% and hay up 4%.

Last year Virginia harvested 7200 acres of fire cured tobacco and the 1978 crop is estimated at 6700 acres. Some knowledgeable growers tell me this is just too optimistic with a very late crop.

With harvest season already here for some crops and will continue for another three months, some farmers may find the "on-the-job-training program" a useful tool.

It's a program under the Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) designed to provide for the development and creation of job opportunities for certain individuals. Persons that can be employed under this program must be out of a job, or a person working part-time who would like to work full-time, or economically disadvantaged. Every farmer is eligible for one OJT trainee -- additional ones may be had provided they don't exceed 25% of the work force.

CETA pays 50% if the person is economically disadvantaged, otherwise it is 25%.

More details are available from our office. This program is administered by the Virginia Employment Commission -- contact person in this area is Sumner Pugh in Farmville.

Frequently we are asked about pest control operators. We are not permitted to recommend one person over another.

However, it would seem that those who demonstrate a high degree of professionalism may be the best choice. These are operators who are either members of the National Pest Control Association or the Virginia State Pest Control Association. We can provide you with a listing of these persons.

Old Dominion Eye Bank to Meet

At the annual business and dinner meeting of the Board of Directors of the Old Dominion Eye Bank and Research, Inc. set for Wednesday, July 26th in Richmond, John O. Gregory, a Manassas business man, will become chairman of the organization's governing body.

Gregory has served in various official positions on the Eye Bank's Board prior to becoming the vice-chairman in 1976. He is currently a member of the Board of Directors of Lions International from Virginia, and has been active in Lionism and its sight conservation programs for the past thirty years.

Also, in recognition and appreciation of the excellent cooperation received from the Virginia State Police and local police departments, representatives from these organizations will be special guests of the Eye Bank at this annual dinner affair.

The Eye Bank's Board of Directors is composed of business and professional individuals from Eastern, Central, and Northern Virginia. This dedicated group has guided the Old Dominion Eye Bank, founded in 1962, to where today it is one of the nation's most modern receiving, processing, distribution, and research centers for donated human eye tissue solicited by the Lions of Virginia for sight-restoring corneal transplantation purposes.

Virginians currently serving on the Old Dominion Eye Bank's Board of Directors are: Marshall E. Newkirk, Purcellville; James P. Erny, Jr., Petersburg; Arthur Lazarow, Gloucester, VA; Honorable L. Paul Byrne, Judge, Richmond; Porter B. Echols, Jr., M. D., Lynchburg; Connell J. Trimber, M. D., Alexandria; Edward M. Kosjer, Norfolk; Edward C. Meyer, O. D., Richmond; Jack L. Middleton, The Plains, VA; Walter L. Taylor, Jr., M. D., Virginia Beach; George W. Lewis, Altavista, VA; Walter J. Rein, M. D., Richmond; Thomas W. Atkinson, Norfolk; Kenneth S. Hitch, Clifton, VA; David W. MacMillan, M. D., Richmond; Ernest F. Hardee, Portsmouth; Walter Mayer, M. D., Richmond; Berkley H. Martin, M. D., Richmond; John O. Gregory, Manassas; Edward D. Barnes, Richmond.

At a time when consumers are taking a second look at purchases made at the supermarket, Virginia eggs offer welcomed relief to budgets. Pound for pound, eggs are an economical source of one of the highest quality proteins. Grade A Virginia large eggs purchased at 70-75 cents per dozen cost about 50 cents per pound and 12-15 cents per two-egg serving.

So get eggs out of the breakfast routine and use them for lunch, dinner, and a nutritious snack. They'll save you both money and time.

Try a skillet dinner for a quick, easy, and economical main dish. If you like, start out with sauteed onions, green pepper or mushrooms and toss in some leftover chopped cooked ham or chicken. Finish off by scrambling in some eggs. Potatoes, tomatoes, cheese, luncheon meat, seafood, and any of your favorite seasonings could also be used. It's super quick and easy.

Another skillet dinner variation based on "scrambled" eggs is an open-faced omelet. Prepare an omelet without folding it. Top it with sauteed vegetables, bacon bits, sausage, cheese, tomato sauce...Cut in wedges and serve.

Or, heat up some spanish rice or a mixture of your favorite vegetables and frozen hash brown potatoes. Make indentations in either mixture with the back of a spoon. Break and slip eggs into the indentations. Cover and let the eggs "bake" right on top of the range.

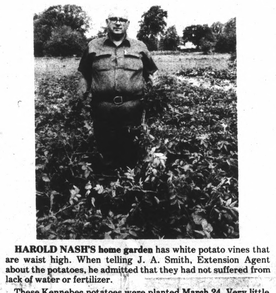
You could also prepare a white sauce of use a can of condensed creamed soup, stir in drained canned Chinese vegetables and chopped, sliced or wedged hard-cooked eggs. Viola! A canned dinner that doesn't taste canned.

Eggs can help rescue you from kitchen drudgery. Keep them in mind when you're pressed for time.

They're easier by the dozen-to hard cook that is. Save time by hard cooking eggs a dozen at a time. They'll keep about four weeks and will be ready for picnics, making egg salad, garnishing salads and main dishes.

Be sure to mark each shell with a "H" so you won't pick up an uncooked egg by mistake.

Any way you fix them, Virginia eggs will save you both time and money, so pick up an extra dozen when you go shopping.



HAROLD NASH'S home garden has white potato vines that are waist high. When telling J. A. Smith, Extension Agent about the potatoes, he admitted that they had not suffered from lack of water or fertilizer.

These Kennebec potatoes were planted March 24. Very little fertilizer was put in the row, but a heavy application (about 20 lbs. 10-10-10) was applied over the top of the rows. When the potatoes were worked the first time they were side dressed with a mixture (about 20 lbs.) of 10-10-10 and 16% nitrate of soda. At the final cultivation 15 lbs. of nitrate of soda was put down.

The 20 pounds of seed are multiplying rapidly with a high level of fertilizer and supplemental irrigation.
